elegy 2015

elegy. A song of praise for wine. Two international grape varieties on Mittelburgenland soil. Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot in perfect balance.

In 2015 there was a calm weather pattern in spring and after a favorable blooming weather a hot and dry summer began. A fantastic autumn followed with many sunny days and relatively cool nights. After meticulous manual harvesting in several harvest rounds, the grapes were sorted again at the winery. A selection of the best wines matured in the cellar for three years. Full-bodied, strong, noble. A special wine with aging potential, intended for long storage. Our elegy in red.

In early Greek, elegy is a song of praise for the glory of wine and is therefore dedicated to praise and thanks for the favor of nature and the gods in this extraordinary harvest year.

David. Michelangelo Buonarroti created the world-famous statue of a young man of perfect, imperishable beauty. The sculpture represents the biblical David the moment he starts the fight against the giant Goliath. David's gaze is on a point in the distance, drawing the viewer's attention to the imminent victory.

In 1501, Michelangelo received the order for a colossal statue of David from the influential Arte Della Lana, the wool weaver guild in Florence. He had a huge Carrara marble block that had been stored in the cathedral garden since 1468. Michelangelo was now to complete the plan drawn up almost forty years earlier by the Domopera to add a David to the figure program of the outer buttresses of Santa Maria del Fiore.
